| What were the highlights of the conference? | I really enjoyed the keynote speech “Use of Optimization Models for Resource Allocation in Wireless Ad-Hoc and Sensor Networks”. Prof. Kin K. Leung from Imperial College, UK discussed the state of the art optimisation models used for resource allocation that is directly related to my research. I also made some contacts and they gave me several suggestions and recommended some useful papers. I was awarded the best Poster presentation award (image attached). I hope to share my experiences and further findings with the New Zealand networking community through future events organised by InternetNZ. | | |
| What were the lowlights of the conference? | The conference technical program was changed during the conference and I missed some talks that I am interested in because of the time conflict. | | |
