What have you learnt so far? *

We've learnt that Oranga Matihiko is a programme that is fit to help students from various backgrounds to succeed, given that the right people to facilitate the programme are available to support. Having access to strong support networks is crucial to the success of the programme.

Describe what is working well so far or challenges you have faced. These insights may help others.

What (if anything) have you changed in your approach or practices? Explain why this was necessary?

We've had to investigate ways of balancing on and off screen activities to ensure that core aspects of digital well-being are being met. This has led to further discussions around an active recreation programme that aligns with Oranga Matihiko. A new initiative to address this change is on the way.

Describe any changes from the original proposal and the rationale for those changes.

Which population group/s were affected by this project or program? *

Age groups > Children and youth (age 0-17) > Adolescents (people aged 13-17)

Education status > Secondary school students

Ethnic and racial groups > Indigenous peoples > Māori

Family and relationships > Families > Families of origin / whānau

Health > People with disabilities > People with learning disabilities

Please choose only the group/s that were at the very core of this initiative.
